

Matthew Busch – New Hope Group Chief Financial Officer

Matthew joined New Hope in 1997 and has held numerous positions in the accounting and finance team, prior to being appointed to his current role of Chief Financial Officer in 2014.

Matthew is responsible for accounting, financial reporting, banking, finance, treasury, taxation and financial systems of the group. He also participates in setting the strategic direction of the company, mergers, acquisitions and divestments.

Matthew combines his financial background with a deep understanding of the company's operations and the broader resources and infrastructure industries.